MARINER

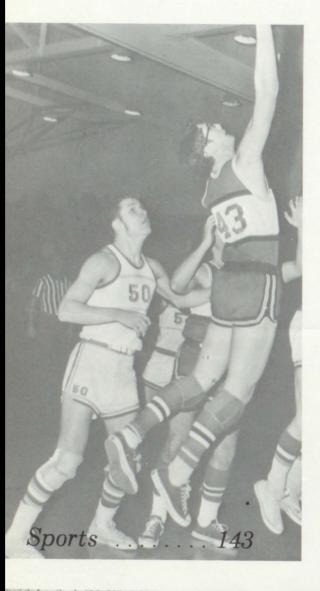

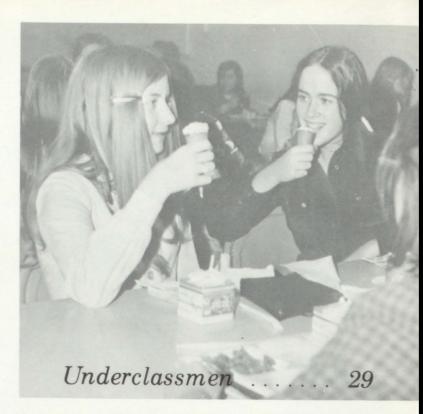

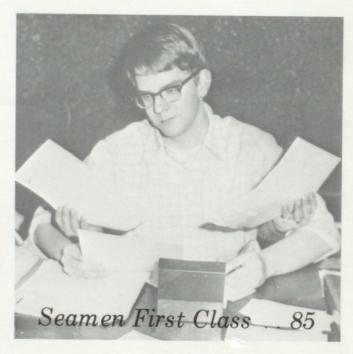

1971 MARINER

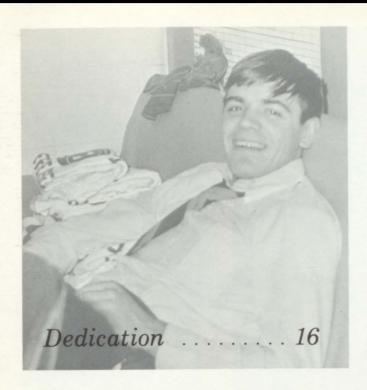

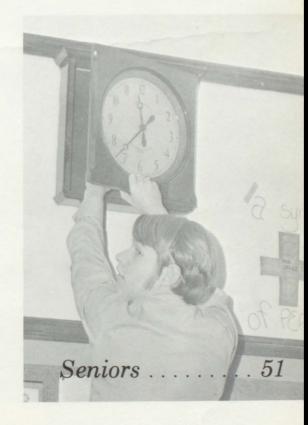

The sailor is the integral part of the ship; she could sail without him, but whether she is a good ship or poor depends upon the sailor.

Mutiny is the death of a ship.
There must be respect, yet understanding, between her captain, mates, and crew.

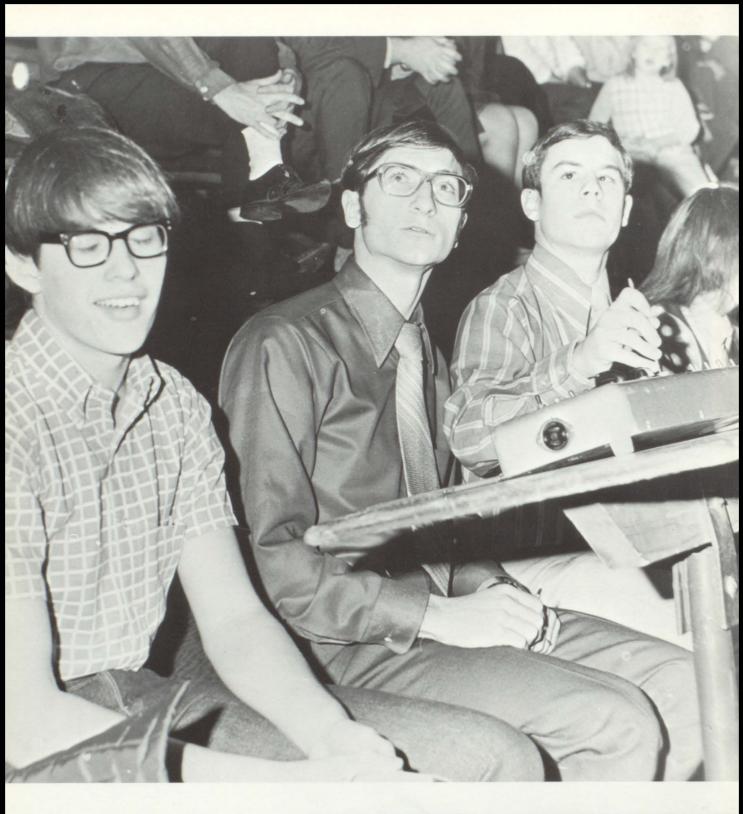

To survive at sea a sailor must have a healthy body supporting a healthy mind.

Sometimes the sailor will gaze at the sea in longing, or spout his wrath when the sea swells in a storm; but the most common look is the joy of doing, and doing well.

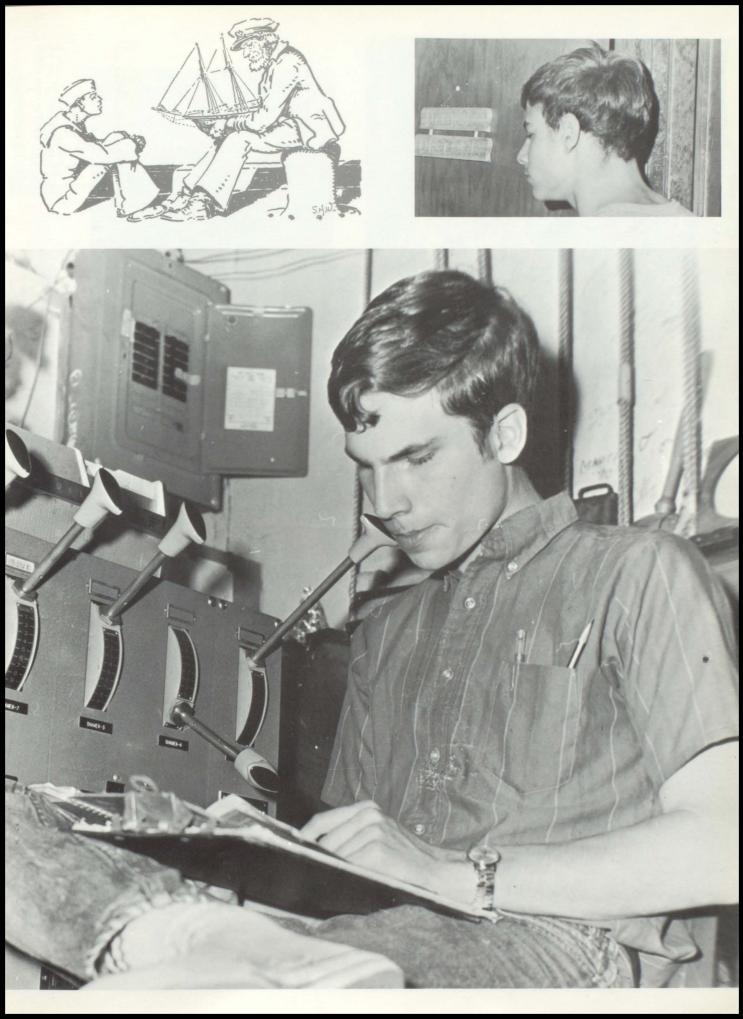

Each dawn brings the challenge of surviving to see the next.

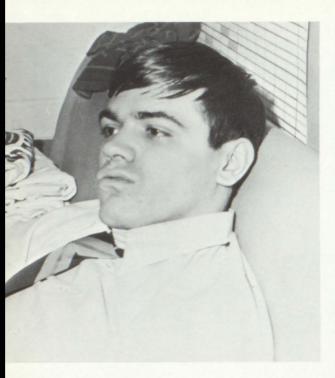

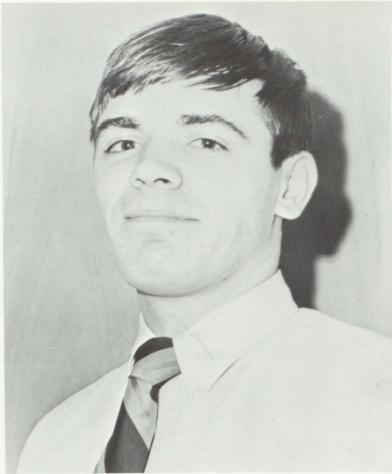

A life without creativity would be like a schooner without the wind.

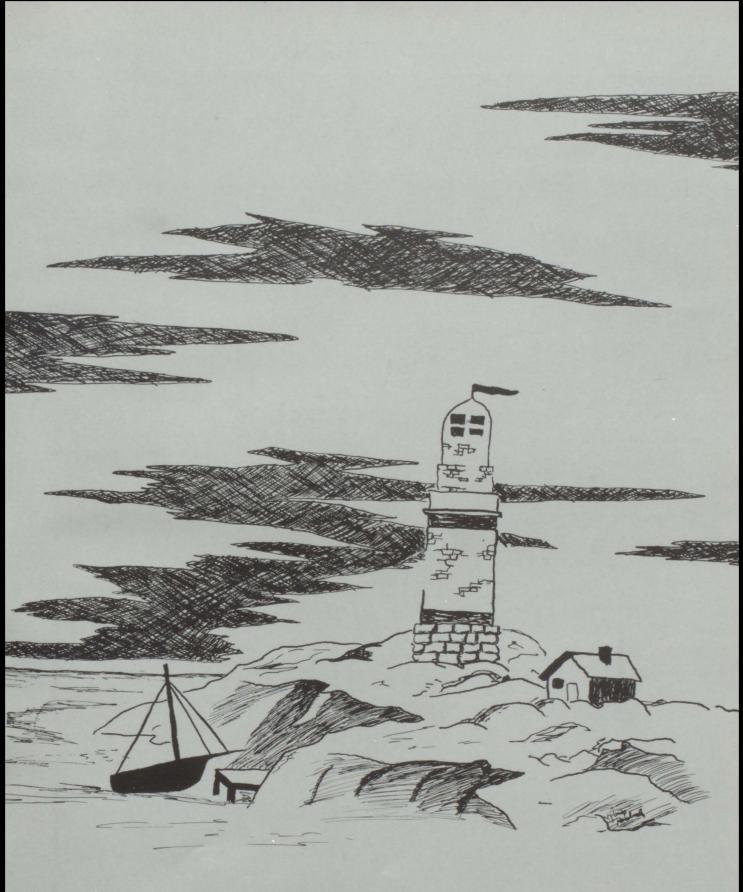

Mr. Larry Bragga

This yearbook is dedicated with great pride to an actively involved faculty member. This person has given color to our halls, humor to our assemblies, and guidance and friendship to the present senior class. As coach of the baseball team, he brought Harbor into the center of NEC action with increasingly improving seasons. For the past four years he has taught biology and served as adviser to the class of 1971.

It is for the above reasons that the senior class joins the yearbook staff in dedicating the 1971 Mariner to Mr. Larry Bragga.

CLASS OF '72

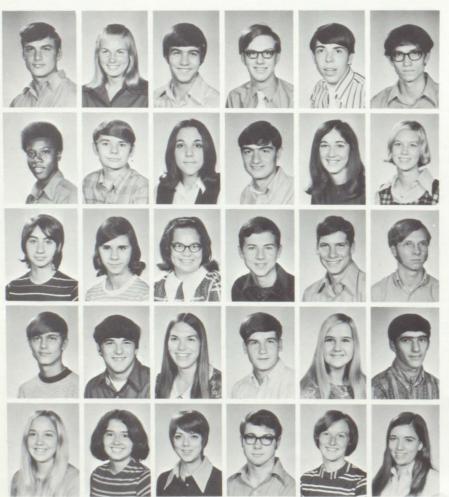

In previous years the Class of '72 has sold candy and gift kits.

This money, plus that from their junior candy bar sale, was used to finance the Prom, which was the big responsibility for the class this year.

In addition to hosting a successful prom, the class also collected the most money for the Red Cross drive and helped with their class play.

CLASS OF '71

Now that we are seniors, we can look back at our underclass years and laugh. Our history at Harbor began when we first tripped up the front stairs of the building which was to be our home for the next year.

After buying a year's supply of elevator passes, we discovered that the elevator was really George's broom closet. We finally got down to business and started our first class project, a stupendous Christmas napkin sale.

In the spring of our freshman year, with the help of ''Mother,'' we put Broadway to shame with our production of ''An Apple for the Teacher,'' which won the one-act play contest. The sophomore year arrived and, along with it, a year of hard work. We held our annual pop bottle drive and the sophomore class car wash, which was rained out after we had washed about ten cars and a semi. The realization that our prom was less than a year away startled us, and we picked our prom committee, headed by Lynn Peura and Tom Grey.

Junior class candy sales, prom committee meetings, and chemistry hit us at the beginning of the 1969-70 school year. Familiar cries heard in the various parts of the building at this time were "The bottom just fell out of our crucible!" "Listen. I'll tell you. The theme of our prom is 'Showboat,'",

"Pigeon Power," and "Puba walks!"

As we got busier and busier with the prom construction, we became more exasperated in our war to keep the theme a secret. At last it was finished -- our beautiful prom, "Un Coin de Paris." Surely the memory of our midnight pickups and deliveries, the west wall alley, and painting 1700 square feet of bricks will follow us all the days of our lives.

September, 1970 -- We're seniors! Funny we didn't feel any different until after the first couple of weeks. Then it hit us. Now we could walk through the halls with an air of pride and a hope of graduation. We could laugh at jokes that we didn't even understand when we were freshmen.

Suddenly we found ourselves members of Senior Girls and/or Senior Men, hastily preparing for such events as the Christmas dance, the Variety Show, and Homecoming. Our homecoming queen, Lynn Puchan, reigned in a gym bedecked with purple and gold curtains, actually sheets converted thus by a morbid dye job.

Each week we heard our senior AFS'er, Toshi Takai, rattling off appeals for Penny Wednesday donations -- in Japanese.

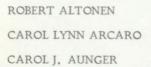

When we were finally measured for caps and gowns, we really felt like seniors -- one foot in and the other out of school -- and began setting our sails for graduation.

SEAMEN FIRST CLASS

Toshi shows a Japanese fan as well as a sense of humor.

An Oriental Santa Claus roamed the halls at Christmas.

Toshi and his America brother Mike both like to play the guitar.

Toshitsugu Takai

American Field Service Student From Japan

Our American Field Service student this year was Toshi Takai.

His family in Anagasaki, Japan, consists of his father, who works on the railroad; his mother, who is a dressmaker; and his sister, who is the ping pong champion of her high school.

Toshi's American family is the Irving Goodmans. His American brother Mike is a Junior at HHS.

During his senior year here, Toshi carried a heavy schedule: English, trig, American History, P.O.D., speech, and German I. He also took a math course at Kent Center.

Besides being involved in AFS and other clubs, Toshi participated in track and lettered in cross country.

During the year he gave many speeches and answered many questions about his country. Once he was even asked if the hands on a Japanese watch go backward.

Toshi feels that if we want peace, we can get it, for although people may be different,

"basic heart, I hope, is same."

Junior-Senior Prom

The Eiffel Tower completed the mural of Paris.

The year for planning had flown by too quickly, it seemed. The prom committee and the rest of the junior class were now faced with the dreaded week of construction. Rolls of crepe paper and table covering, and mounds of cardboard and paint were waiting to transform the gyminto Paris, the scene for our 1970 prom.

The week passed - not without several fire drills which cleared the gym immediately (save those few people who found a place to hide), and Friday night found us exhausted from our work, but ecstatic at the results. The gym was a dim replica of the shops, beauty, and sidewalk cafes of Paris.

The gym lobby resembled the interior of a Parisian hotel complete with gold-leaf wall paper and floral displays.

After stepping through the gym doors to the gym proper, Prom-goers found themselves on the terrace of a Paris cafe.

If I see ONE more ruffle . . . !!

Hard at work?

A mass of crepe paper and lumber housed "Uncle Sam's Army Buddies."

"Un Coin De Paris"

Behind them was the front of the cafe in red bricks with three gables. A picture window with blue and white curtains and a lamp portrayed the warmth of the inner cafe.

Stepping out from under the awning of the cafe one encountered a line of shops, the first of which was a tailor shop. This shop housed a dress form, a pedal sewing machine, and the coat check. On down the street were shops of many varieties fronted by a sidewalk lit by gaslights. The guest register was found in the lobby of a hotel.

The Eiffel Tower highlighted the mural of Paris on the South Wall.

A landscaped park on the East Wall with a lighted fountain and tables with checkered tablecloths and wine bottles completed "Un Coin De Paris".

Homecoming 1970

The candidates for Homecoming Queen - Sue Bent, Candy Erickson, Kathy Frisbie, Julie Lillvis, Lynn Puchan, Sue Roivas, and Fran Surbella - were chosen by the senior class October 2. The girls campaigned until the night of the Harbor-Conneaut football game, the Friday the queen was to be crowned.

That night, October 9, during the pregame ceremonies the girls were driven around the field by Greg Gardner, Tom Grey, Tim Moisio, and Craig Ward. After being escorted to the center of the field, Jerry Jeram and Gary Lillvis - cocaptains of the football team - crowned Lynn Puchan the Homecoming Queen of 1970.

Saturday night the court was escorted to the dance by Tim Moisio, Gary Lillvis, Ken Laveck, Jerry Jeram, Mike Urch, Gary Ovak, and Todd Crandall. Later that evening, Lynn was formally crowned with a crown of white stephanotis and ivy by Mike Crombie, Student Council president. Music for the dance was provided by "The Sounds of Progress".

A crown and roses for the queen.

The National Honor Society is an organization which stresses the qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Members retain their membership in the society only as long as they retain these qualities.

Formal initiations into the society are held twice a year.

This year's money-making project can be easily explained in a nutshell -- a peanut shell, that is. The members sold peanuts at the last three football games.

In December the society organized a College Day, which was held so that interested students could meet with representatives from various colleges.

Members also provided a free tutoring service twice a week for students who needed help in their subjects.

International Conorary Society for Kigh School Journalists

Quill and Scroll is an honorary society for high school journalists.

A member of Quill and Scroll must be a junior or a senior in the upper third of his class who has made outstanding contribution to the school yearbook or newspaper.

New members are initiated once a year, in a candlelight ceremony in the auditorium or at an informal dinner. They receive their membership pins at that time.

Miss Mary Boyce, adviser to the yearbook and the newspaper, also advised Quill and Scroll.

Junior Class Play

This year the junior class presented "The Night of January 16th" on November 19 and 20.

In the play, a young woman is on trial for the murder of her employer. To determine the verdict, each night the clerk of the court drew a jury from the audience. These people sat on stage and listened to the evidence presented by witnesses called to the stand.

Following regular court procedure, the jury was isolated backstage in the jury room so that they would not be influenced by the audience during intermission. the Court

After the prosecuting and defense attorneys summed up their cases, the jury recessed to ing, a flashback reviewed key evidence. On both decide their verdict. While they were deliberatnights, the jury delivered the verdict "not guilty."

30th Annual Variety Show "What the World Needs Now"

Due to postponement from heavy snowfall, the 30th Annual Variety Show was held February 17 and 18, a week later than scheduled.

The show was mixture of the new and the traditional. Larry Coutts and Mike Crombie served as Emcees, a new addition to the program.

The Senior Girls opened the show, singing the theme song, "What the World Needs Now," and introduced their Miss Varieties, Joanne Fisher.

Acts included the Thespian skits, the Madrigals and the Second Time Around, and several vocal solos. Pierre Triozzi and Steve Sackman both played piano solos by Gershwin. An unusually beautiful number was the song "Sounds of Silence" sung by Teresa Steele while Mary Ann Hunt interpreted it in sign language. Four Modern Dancers did a take-off on a Carol Burnett char-woman routine.

The choir ended the program with Berlin's "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," while Goddess of Liberty Amy Ewing took her stand on the stage.

They also went to see others perform in "Hamlet" and "1776."

The club sponsored a baby picture contest to raise money, and new members were initiated in January. A semi-formal New Year's Eve banquet was held. Officers installed at the Spring Banquet were in charge of the spring picnic.

Modern Dancers

Modern Dancers is a club for girls interested in watching and performing dance.

Members put on the Festival of Dance as well as take part in the Variety Show and the musical.

The girls also had the opportunity to go to other dance productions this year, including "George M." Other activities held were a fall initiation and a Christmas party.

Audio-Visual Club

The Projectionist Club is primarily a service club.

Its members serve as projectionists and help teachers use the visual aid equipment.

The Club showed movies at Columbus Junior High and at Harbor in order to buy equipment that needed replacing.

The Student Council's goal this year was to provide better communication between the student body and the administration.

This year the Council held a Student Council Week in October to acquaint the student with their representatives, who were elected by homerooms. Students were to give their representatives suggestions, which were discussed at a mock Council meeting held in the gym before the assembled students.

The Student Council sponsors dances, including the annual Welcoming Dance, and organizes assemblies such as the Veterans' Day program. Each month the Student Council elects a boy and a girl as Students of the month for outstanding participation in school activities.

Harbor High/School Band is directed by Oliver Kaura; Lawrence Landfried conducts sectionals. Starting in August, the band practices hard to learn drills and routines to entertain the public during the pre-game and half-time performances at the football games. A pep band plays at the basketball games.

After football season the band concentrates on its most important task -- learning to play and perform the good music presented at the concerts: the midwinter concert, the spring concert, Commencement, and the pop concert.

During the summer members attend special band practices to improve their playing. Talented members are asked to participate in the All-County Band.

AFS

The purpose of the American Field Service is to introduce and support our foreign exchange students. Money to sponsor a student is raised by collecting on Penny Wednesday and by other projects.

A potluck supper was held to introduce Toshi, our exchange student this year. Members set up a display at the Zonta Bazaar.

After the club attended a joint meeting with Bula, Harbor invited Bula's AFS Club to its Christmas caroling party. On International Day members took the foreign exchange students who were here for the day around to their classes.

It is by bringing together different cultures that the AFS hopes to promote world understanding.

FHA

The Future Homemakers of America was founded in 1945 as an incorporated, self-supporting, non-profit organization for home economics students in junior and senior high school.

The only requirement to join is to be taking or to have taken home economics. The over-all goal of FHA is "to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living."

Some of the many activities of the Harbor FHA include bake sales, cookbook sales, and the sponsorship of the TWIRP dance. Proceeds are used to help those in need at holiday time, to honor teachers during FHA Week with a luncheon, to give an annual Halloween party for the Children's Home, and to send delegates to the FHA state convention.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club invites its members to learn more about the Spanish language and culture.

This year the club members bought Christmas presents for all the children at the Children's Home. In December they had a Christmas party at which new members were initiated.

French Club

The French Club furthers the French language among its members. Through projects such as car washes and bake sales the club raises money to finance its activities.

Besides the annual initiation and spring picnic the French Club this year saw two French plays, went to a French restaurant, and hosted the International Banquet.

Latin Clubs

There are two Latin Clubs, one for first year and another for more advanced students.

The Latin Clubs provide outside learning of the greek and Roman cultures and an opportunity to meet with other Latin clubs.

Every year they hold a Latin Banquet and a slave auction.

The clubs sponsor one or more needy families each year at Christmas with money raised from selling holiday fruit cakes.

German Club

This year Harbor's and Bula's German classes got together to form a German Club.

With the help of their adviser, Mrs. Caroline Stevenson, they organized the club, elected officers, and appointed a committee to write a constitution.

The club had student speakers and made plans for a potluck supper and a Christmas party. They planned to have at least one activity a month.

Art Club

The Harbor High Art Club is active in acquainting members in various aspects of art.

Throughout the year they sponsor trips to art museums and shows. Other activities this year were ice skating, roller skating, and Halloween parties.

The club undertook several moneymaking projects, including a wire and leather goods sale. Their work was displayed in the showcases during most of the year.

Math Club

The Math Club is an organization formed this year to consider new concepts of mathematics. The officers drew up their constitution at one of their monthly meetings.

In the fall members of the club attended a mathematics conference at Edinboro College in Pennsylvania. The club also arranged for the mathematics test to be administered in early spring.

The club held a spring picnic at the end of the year.

Science Club

The Science Club was formed about the middle of last year to provide further activities for students who had special interest in various fields of science.

Among their plans for this year were taking field trips, viewing science films, and doing experiments in chemistry and physics.

Committees were formed to play ways of raising money to buy a laser gun which students could use for science projects.

New to Harbor this year was the Ski Club. With their adviser, Roger Tirabassi, members went skiing Tuesday nights during the snow season.

Ski Club members could take advantage of the reduced group rates and skiing lessons at Peek 'n Peak.

Since everybody paid his own expenses, the club did not have a treasury.

Wonder where the snow went!

GAA

The Girls' Athletic Association promotes good sports-manship through its outside activities and intramural program in all sports.

This year's activities included a welcoming party, adoption of a family at Christmas, a bowling party, a swimming party, and a spring picnic.

The annual Class Tournaments are a success due to this organization, which plans and directs it and gives awards to the classes excelling in various fields.

New to Harbor this year was the girls' basketball team. At home games the GAA sold tickets and served refreshments to the visiting team.

Drill Team

Sixteen girls, with the help of their adviser, Miss Laraine Canzonetta, organized a drill team. In uniforms which they had made, the girls performed various routines of precision marching, including one using flashlights.

The drill team performed at some of the home football games and in the Christmas parade.

Cross Country 1970

This year the Harbor Cross Country team under Coach John Ranta, marked up up a 4 - 4 slate in dual meets.

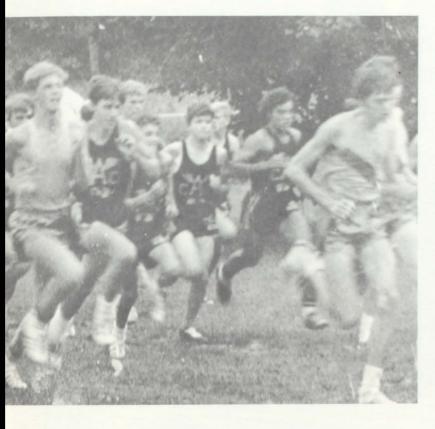

The Harriers also placed 10th out of 15 teams in the Willoughby Invitational, 5th out of 8 teams in the NEC, and 6th out of 12 teams in the Double "A" Districts at Warren, Ohio.

They are losing the services of graduating seniors Jim Flick, Mike Fortune, Craig Ward, Mark Rektor, and Fred Robinson, as well as AFS student Toshi Takai. However, aided by the return of 3 lettermen, they hope to go on to an improved performance next year.

Finishing his term as track coach, Elmer Gray ended his last season with a fair record. Mr. Gray was track coach 25 years.

The trackmen brought Harbor 3 wins and 3 losses, with a 2nd place in the City Series and a 3rd place in the District.

Craig Ward broke a school record for the high jump and placed 3rd in the District track meet. Jon Peterson, Jim Flick, Mark Rektor, and Mike Fortune, with Ward, were the Varsity's mainstays.

The freshman squad had only 21 boys, too few for a track squad. Without adequate help, the small team could not pull a win.

Golf 1970

With a solid nucleus of seasoned veterans, the Harbor linksters turned in an excellent season, compiling a 14 - 0 - 1 record.

The squad once again won the City Series and the NEC crowns and placed 4th in the District meet.

Todd Crandall was named the most Valuable Player, with a 38.8 average in regular competition. He went on to the State Tournament.

Tennis 1970

The 1970 tennis team continued their winning streak for the sixth straight year in a row as they again held the title as City Series champs.

The team, consisting mainly of seniors, coached by Robert Huff, produced a record of 10 wins and only 2 losses.

Chris Payne, a co-captain, was given the Most Valuable Player award. The R.L. Huff award and the Outstanding Player award went to Tim Kalil, also a co-captain. Dave Chaney and Dan Bowman were again named NEC doubles champions.

Supporting these seniors in many matches were sophomores Mike Goodman, Bob Hellman, Doug Johnson, and Dale Stredney. Freshmen who participated were Jim Fisher and Scott Seaman.

Girls' Basketball

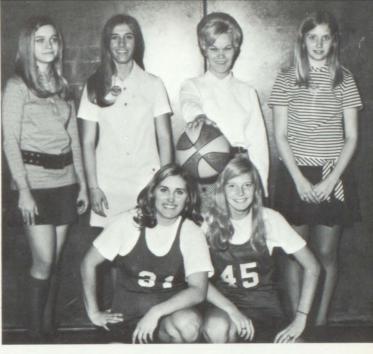

Harbor's girls' cage team under Coach Rita Bivens played 6 fantastic games in their 1970 season. The squad ended their season in a flat-footed tie with Conneaut.

This year's team, composed of 9 seniors and 2 juniors, fought valiantly, never giving the crowds a dull moment. Teamwork was the keynote for the squad. This all-out effort was witnessed in the last game against Conneaut.

Cindy Agnew and Janice Detore made the All-Northeastern Conference team, with Marilyn Swanson making the second team. Cindy Agnew was a consistent high scorer.

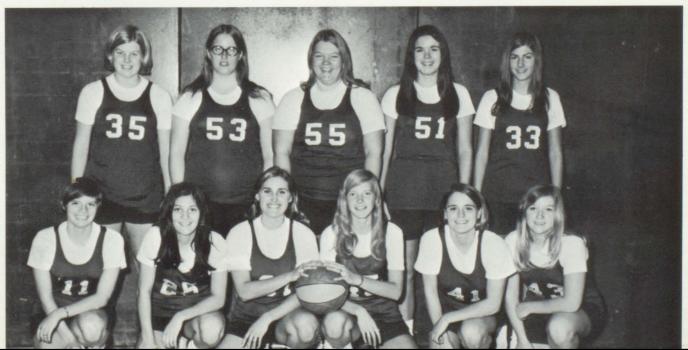

The girls' basketball squad was a true example of Harbor spirit and pride.

The 1970-71 cage season for the Seamen was quite a comeback with a record of 12 wins and 6 losses.

The team finished second in the City Series and third in the NEC.

Halfway through the season the Mariners had compiled a record of 6 wins and 3 losses. The second half of the season saw them repeat this record, winning and losing the same games both times.

Jim Filer led the City Series scoring through much of the season. Mark Wagner landed a spot on the first team in the city with Filer and Dave Lampela getting spots on the second team. Wagner and Filer also received NEC Honorable Mention.

Coach Tony Nappi

"Despite our young team and their subsequent lack of experience, we showed a tremendous effort," summed up Coach Tony Nappi and assistant coach Glenn Sutherin about the Harbor wrestlers.

The grapplers, gaining a 9-1 record in dual meets, were led during the first part of the season by the senior tri-captains Dave Peterson (138), Mark Phelps (155), and Dante Monda (176).

The team placed second in the Christmas Invitational at Edgewood, were co-champs of the NEC, and placed a strong record in the Sectional Tournament.

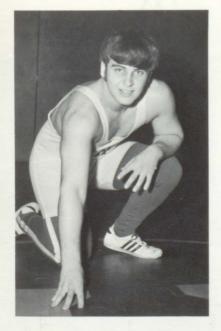

John Keene was the only undefeated wrestler this season with a 10-0 record. Those winning NEC championship trophies were Louie Mongenel, Dave Peterson, Mark Phelps, and Reed Jarvi.
